Dr. Angel Brian, who made himself so notorious during Santos' time, has been appointed secretary to the Presidency; this appointment has been most severely criticised by every paper except the Nacion, of which Brian Minisels is editor: even the Dia, Herrera's own organ, condemns it: it is said that Brian has challenged the editor of the Dia, on account of his severe remarks.

A banquet was given in the Central Hotel on Saturday night to Capurro, the Minister, by the officials of the Banco Constructor, of which he was president. Herrera and other notabilities were present.

Yesterday's races were very animated; the principal race resulted in a dead heat between Gordon, Indio, Ecarte and Kleber; the other winners were Honlachan, Politica, Caudillo, Rondador, and Hamlet.

Alberto Pons, a clerk in the English Bank, went to a lodging house in Calle Ho'cue yesterday morning and hired a room and then blew his brains out; no cause for the rash act is yet known; his father was amongst the crowd attracted by the excitement. This is the third similar suicide in the same house in two years, the second occurring not a month ago and in the same room.

Rising prices were obtained at land auctions yesterday.

The Bolsa is unsettled; little bsiness; Obras closed at 39½, National Bank at 109, Cedulas at 70½.

The remains of Mr Victoriano Gallo were buried yesterday.

Tucuman, 17th—Governor Quinteros has resumed the reins of power and is thinking of drawing up a bill for the better administration of justice.

THE PRESIDENT'S RETURN.

After an absence of sixty days, a vacation, the pleasures of which have been spoilt by a sudden climax in the financial infirmity of the country and the general acrimony displayed against his Government, President Juarez returns to-day from Cordoba and will be welcomed by hundreds of friends in the early morning at the Central Station. As he descends from the platform of the railway waggon, he may feel the chill of an unpopular atmosphere, in spite of the warm reception tendered to him by his friends, but let him not be deceived into the belief that the cold blast is wafted from the quarter of political opposition: no, it blows from the great caves of popular discontent, not as a threat or a warning, but as a request to relieve the people from the fatal pressure of three years' bad finances.

The discontent the President of the Republic may see and feel around him may be slightly of a political nature, but, so far as its main proportions are concerned, it is mainly economical. As a partizan, he may know the intrinsic value of the political opposition with which he has to deal and he may afford to laugh at it; but, as a ruler, he cannot for a moment overlook the discontent rampant in the masses, and we doubt not that he will seek to remove the causes of such a grave situation, for that discontent is the chief weapon wielded by the political opposition. No government, let it be remembered, can be sound, if it does not rely on the support of the people, unless the evidence of the history of the world fail to find application in these latitudes.

For three years, the Government has been working hard to prepare the present state of affairs with the plausible ambition of pushing the country ahead. President Juarez must now devote the next three years of government to the work of reparation and he will succeed if he carries out the programme the main features of which we published last Saturday. If he have the moral courage to reduce the paper circulation, liquidate the majority of state banks, and enforce rigid economy, we may look forward to a return to specie payments before he hands over the reins of power to his successor on the 12th October 1892. Let this be his great ambition and he may reckon on the support of all in such a necessary policy. Private interests must be sacrificed and general interests consulted: as the President very aptly said the interests of transitory politics are sub servient to those of the country at large.

The Government must simply retrace its steps and the entire people will sound the retreat in unison, although we may be pardoned for saying that in this comedy of financial errors the national and provincial governments are to blame, the people to be pitied as the victim of those errors. Still, the people are generous and will exonerate the authorities from all blame, if some radical policy of reform were to again shunt the nation's finances on the right pack. We must give up the luxury of state-banking with 163 millions of issue of banknotes; we must abandon the "friendly" banking system in which money is lent to the wrong parties. We must say good-bye to Cedulas for many a long day and forego the fruition of glutting pools and syndicates to start imaginary colonies. We must get rid of all this, but Dr. Juarez must not saddle his Government with the responsibility of the State Banks. It is not the nation, but the very banks of issue, that must convert banknotes into gold. Let there be no financial sentimentality in this respect. Give these banks two years to get back to conversion, give them six months to pay their arrears to the National Treasury, and wind them up if they fail to comply. This is the policy of reparation, and President Juarez may rely on the active support of every soul in the Republic if he put it into execution.

Politics fade into insignificance when compared with finances in the present serious situation. Popular groans have reached Cordoba during the presidential vacation; when the premium reached 173 o/o there was a certain political gravity about the situation that cannot have escaped the President. Well, that premium is the barometer of the people's feelings, and let Dr. Juarez be guided by it; if he fails to do this we presage stormy times and great unpopularity, at least in this capital where all our dissatisfaction resolves itself into the misery of high gold and high cost of living. Let the Government study the echo!

Our Mails.

(Per F. M. S. Orenoque)

London, Feb. 18

Replying in the House of Peers to questions upon the subject of Australian federation, Lord Knutsford expressed his sympathetic interest in the movement, and intimated that a second conference on the subject would shortly be held. Earl Granville concurred in the attitude of the Government. A bill for the better preservation of hares was read a second time.

In the House of Commons Mr. W. H. Smith informed Mr. Parnell that the Government had decided to propose a resolution adopting the report of the Special Commission, ordering the same to be entered in the journals of the House, and thanking the judges for their impartial conduct of the inquiry. The Attorney-General introduced a bill to remove certain electoral disabilities of soldiers, sailors, and policemen. Mr. W. O'Brien resumed the debate on Mr. Parnell's amendment to the Address, and the other speakers included Mr. T. W. Russell, Mr. Stansfeld, Mr. Shaw-Lefevre, and Mr. Smith-Barry. Mr. Wyndham, Mr. Balfour's private secretary, delivered his maiden speech. The discussion was further adjourned until to-day.

Ministers in Quebec, after considering the attack recently made by French-Canadians on a meeting of lady Evangelists in that province, have decided to take steps for vindicating the law and protecting free speech.

Mr. Matthews, replying to a deputation who waited on him at the Home Office, urging that the time of work in coal pits should be compulsorily limited to eight hours a day, assured them of his anxiety to do all he could to improve the conditions under which the miner worked, but added that he could hold out no hopes that the Government would impose restrictions on adult males in the disposal of their labor.

Mr. Lewis, coroner for South Essex, opened an inquest relative to the death of the girl, Amelia Jeffs, whose body was found in the attic of an untenanted house at West Ham. Evidence was given by the father of the deceased, by a little girl who had a brief conversation with her on the night she disappeared, by the police-officer who found the body, and by the medical man who made the post-mortem examination. The latter testified that the girl had been outraged and then strangled. The inquiry was adjourned for a fortnight, and it was determined to offer a reward for the capture of the murderer.

At the Doncaster Hunt Meeting, Mr. J. Waugh's Teviot won the Corporation Open Handicap Hurdle Race, Mr. C. J. Cunningham's Sir Herbert the Fitzwilliam Hunters' Hurdle Race, Mr. C. Rowell's Strathnaver the Selling Hunters' Hurdle Race, and Captain Fisher's Shorenet the Hunters' Flat Race.

General business in the Stock Markets was rather more brisk and the influx of £129,000 in gold to the bank helped to strengthen prices. English railways closed appreciably higher, and Canadian were steady. American and Mexican (Vera Cruz lines, however, showed dulness. Foreign Government bonds were fairly maintained. Consols left off without change.

RACING.

THE FIRST MEETING OF THE SEASON.

The most striking improvement effected by the Jockey Club during the recess has been the erection of a third stand, placed between the two already existing. The new stand is an extremely handsome and commodious building, destined for the use of members and their friends; it has, however, in our opinion, one serious fault—the splendid flights of marble steps leading to it appear far too steep. The erection of the new stand enables the Club to throw open the old members' stand to the public at the same time setting aside better accommodation for the Press, a very necessary innovation.

In spite of the downpour of rain on the previous evening, a very fair attendance turned out on Sunday to witness the inauguration of the season of 1890, and, in spite of the heaviness of the course, very good sport was witnessed. The fields were large, but contained an unusual number of "qualifiers"; and a marked feature of the day's proceedings was the large proportion of studs and owners sporting their colours for the first time.

The ball was set rolling with the Maiden 3-year old Plate, which was easily carried off from twelve opponents by the newly imported Sirocco. We were then treated to the Premio Relampago, for which no less than sixteen turned out, and, as the handicap was an extremely good one, it looked as if the winner would take a deal of finding; and so it proved, for the finish was fought out by two outsiders, of whom the second, Arundel, should have won; he, however, got off badly and lost a lot of ground at the last turn; the effort, consequently, to make up his lee-way, although brilliant, was too much for him and could not be sustained till the end. His condition and appearance were alike creditable to O'Neil, who was thus for the first time represented as a trainer by the old son of Standard. The two-year-olds were not a brilliant lot, and the second is likely to prove a better filly than the winner, who had a lot in hand on the score of condition. Another good handicap was now discussed, and although the running of the winner was very creditable, it was patent to all that Ary must have won had not the old rogue turned it up when overhauling Maipu in the straight. In the 2,500 metres race, Kildare showed that he possessed staying qualities as well as speed, and in future, when lightly handicapped, will always have to be reckoned with. The favourites in the Premio Luchadores were distanced, and two rank outsiders fought out an interesting struggle to the bitter end—bitter indeed for the backers of Sapho, who had the mortification of seeing the race thrown away by careless and tame riding. So ended a day's sport, from first to last favourable to the light-weight brigade.

A very bad start; Voltige got off with a tremendous lead and soon put ten lengths between herself and her nearest attendant, Rabelais, following whom came the others in a cluster; entering the straight Rabelais caught Voltige and appeared to be winning easily, but Arundel, coming a rare bat from the last turn, made up some ten lengths and at the half distance seemed then to have the race in hand, but, stopping to nothing in the last 50 yards, the young one was enabled to win an interesting contest by ½ length; 4 lengths between 2nd and 3rd. They ran in this order till just before reaching the last turn, where Ambush had shot his bolt and Maipu went to the front followed by Ary, who had made up a lot of ground rapidly and who now appeared to have the race well in hand, but deliberately turning it up at the distance, he left the 3-yr-old to score a very popular victory by 3 lengths; half length between 2nd and 3rd.

LONDON LETTER.

THE IMPERIAL RESCRIPTS

(From our Own Correspondent)

Feb. 13th

From what is published in a letter from Berlin in the Daily Telegraph the views of the German Emperor as to the social problem are more serious than many in England hoped or were inclined to believe. We know nothing here of social problems except as results in the shape of drink, disease and prostitution, that are looked upon as natural and so much cotton waste from the social machine. When the German Rescripts appeared, average English opinion fastened at once on the most obivous and common-place reasons for the Emperor's troubling himself and the world about the lives and grievances of mere workingmen. In a moment it was decided by business-like and clever people in England, that firstly the rescripts were an "electioneering dodge", and secondly that they were an economic dodge to get the manufacturing countries, such as France, Belgium and England, to cut their tails to the same lengths as German tails, so that if the evils of protectionist legislation in Germany were becoming too apparent, she might adopt "fair trade," or reciprocity treaties, or any fancied mitigation of a mistaken fiscal policy and remain on equal terms with other nations. The "do nt des" principle in this view pointed to Prince von Bismarck as the contriver of the rescripts; and still more subtle politicans, whose culture extended to the reading of Mr Lowe's and Dr Busch's biographies of Prince Bismarck, detected in the rescripts the assumed influence of the Chancellor's socialist friend of his earlier years, and also the iron hand and will that administer socialist pills of the Chancellor's own make and expel and imprison fellow-quacks who offer different and more drastic prescriptions for the same complaint. It was thought, and with some reason, that Prince Bismarck, following an example set by the present Emperor of Austria many years ago, wished, under the pretence of settling social questions internationally, to get the socialists under his thumb by changes in the law of extradition in other countries, and particularly in England. The disposition to tyrannize—the strong monarchical sentiments—and one may say the "junkerism" of Lord Salisbury, added to the known political idiocy of the coroneted bulk of his nominal Cabinet, favoured the opinion that if the German Government could ever expect England to join in a raid upon avowed Socialists, now was the opportunity that might never recur. From what we can gather, little by little, even this more subtle view of the rescripts does not appear to be correct. In the first place, we have known for some time that Prince Bismarck resigned the Prussian Ministry of Commerce, and we are told, whether it be true or no, that his resignation was due to his disapproval of the Emperor's design of issuing the decrees now in question; and whilst frequent allusions are made to the Emperor's "advisers" in this matter, no reference is made to Prince Bismarck. Who the "advisers" may be, those acquainted with German politics will be able to guess, and may not have a very high opinion of them. Prince Bismarck is no doubt a sincere Christian; moreover, in common with many great minds, he has every little superstition it is possible to possess, even to a dread of the number "13". But his socialism, as far as it goes is, we may be sure, of a more practical nature than that form known as Christian Socialism, which is in all respects good and beautiful, but utterly wanting in all economic basis. With that delicious frankness peculiar to him, the German Chancellor has often confessed that he knows nothing of political economy, and his domestic policy amply supports his own view in that respect. But he has a political economy of his own which is not unlike Jay Gould's who was a republican in republican districts, a democrat in democratic districts, and always an Erie Railway man. The "Erie Railway" of Prince Bismarck is the German monarch, the German throne, the German nation in as far as the German nation means the State as worshipped by him, a junker now, as he was fifty years ago. His admiration for Lassalle, apart from his being the first kindred spirit to discover the then unknown young diplomatist and future Chancellor of the German Empire, was due to the Socialist orator's enthusiasm for the unity of the German States and his worship of "the State" in the abstract. In the concrete, Prince von Bismarck—probably by race a Sclav—was willing enough to aid the kindly intentions of the old Emperor William in bettering the condition of the masses by measures that, certainly enough, were Socialistic, but they belong to the political variety known as "State Socialism," different indeed from true Socialism, in which the State is the community not acted upon by a protecting and external will, but operating on and through itself, as the mind acts upon the body.

If the Berlin correspondent of the Daily Telegraph is to be believed, the late Imperial Rescripts are to aid, not in an electioneering device or in free trade, but in attacking seriously the "social question" and in a form more comprehensive than was imagined by the present Emperor's grandfather or by the Great Chancellor who assisted him. The State Council has been summoned to assemble to-morrow at the Royal Castle in Berlin. The Princes of the Blood, the Field Marshals, the German magnifices of whom the Council consists, are to be informed that the two Imperial Rescripts were intended to show that the Kaiser desires German domestic policy to be directed to the Social Question, and that a systematic change in the way of conducting that policy, both of the Empire and of the Kingdom, was involved therein. The reforms suggested by Wilhelm the First are to be pushed forward, but in a more practical shape. The reigning monarch looks upon those reforms already in operation as too Platonic in their nature. On that account and by reason of the interest taken in the subject by the Kaiser, he accepted the resignation of Prince Bismarck as Prussian Minister of Commerce, as it was considered by the Chancellor himself that a younger man would be better able to carry out the Imperial wishes. The Kaiser and those advising him do not conceal from themselves the magnitude, the scope and the difficulty, nay, even the danger of the task before them. They are also aware that their labours must be wearisome, and that the end they aim at cannot be effectually attained till after a long series of deliberations, and perhaps the lapse of years.

It is useless to go into details such as are given, and such as you will read yourselves in the Telegraph, as they refer to the number of the hours of daily labour, to the special grievances of the miners and other well-known technicalities, representing immediate problems that do not require stating, but solution. Political economists of the old school will tell the Kaiser that the only possible solution is to remove all legislative hindrances from the operation of economic laws long since known, and leave the rest to time and the automatic operation of such laws, just as evolution occurs in nature, without those jolts and cataclysms that in social economics the Kaiser's own well-meant interference may easily occasion. To this the Christian Socialists can reply as Maurice and Kingsley would have replied, 'Are we to leave a rude, unthinking, soulless Nature to starve and stink us to death?' The Socialists will say "Kaiser, we thank you. We do not with the vulgar taunt you with the desire to take the wind out of our sails. We know the wind is too strongly set in our direction for us to suffer as you pass by. It is true as you say, that the attainment of your wishes will require the lapse of years. The socialisation of the world is a slow process. Peradventure fewer hours of work and equal or better wages may mitigate some suffering, but how can even so much be secured by ordinary legislation so long as the capitalist system continues. The so-called economic laws have been adopted to that system, according to which the instruments of production are in the hands of the few, and every day of the fewer and fewer, to whose terms we surrender or starve. Kaiser you must commence with a gradual process of socialising land, ships, machinery and all properties capable of being monopolised by individuals, otherwise your Imperial fiats will only add fuel to the flame of discontent."

Some plain Englishmen, full of facts and common sense, may ask: "What the dickens is the 'Social question'?" Well, in Mulhall's Dictionary of Statistics I find in this wealthy England, this Protestant England, this free trade England, this moral and above all gentlemanly England, that out of 1000 persons who die, 961 leave in property or effects less than £300. In round numbers 96 per cent of us are virtually paupers. In other words, taking the millions among so-called coalised nations a minority of 4 per cent have the means of enjoying life, whilst the rest are in misery or with their heads just above its Styx-like waters. To redress that inequality the gallant young Kaiser, like a modern Perseus, has set out. His Andromeda is the Socialist ideal, the monster is "Das Kapital", with claws long sharp, and relentless. It will not do to prod the monster with State Council fads; the Kaiser must disable him or kill him outright, or he had best leave him to die by his own sting, as he will do and is beginning to do, like a scorpion surrounded by fire. Every mail from the United States brings the news of the formation of a fresh "Trust". The last in that homely community is Starch. These things will soon be ripe for confiscation by the State. Emperors need not trouble themselves.

Railway Items.

The bids for the purchase of the Western Railway will be opened at 3 o'clock to-day in La Plata, and there is very much anxiety, not only in railway circles, but more particularly in the market, to know the results. It is said that the principle bidders are a syndicate of capitalists connected with three of our most important railways and a German house. It is also stated that a North American firm will make an effort to secure the prize. In our on 'Change column our readers willl find a few particulars taken from reliable sources.

Messrs Lucas Gonzalez & Co. have sent to the Minister their bills for work done in February on the Central Northern Extensions. The amounts are:—

Dean Funes and Chilecito Railway	22,818	6	10
Chumbicha and Catamarca	3,520	9	2
Chilcas and Jujuy (1st and 2nd Sections)	24,065	15	5
Salta and Santa Rosa (3rd Section)	10,876	4	3
Salta, Chilcas and Jujuy (4th Section)	2,606	19	5

The sites of the Villa Maria and Rufino stations are to be altered. Government, however, has not yet approved the proposed alterations.

The cost of inspection appears to be no small affair. Last year Government paid $300,000 to Messrs. Lucas Gonzalez and Co. to defray the cost of inspection on their lines. Of this sum there remains $20,000, which the Board of Public Works now claim.

The Government has granted the concessionaires three months prorogation for signing the contract for the Railway from Santa Fe to Pigue and General Acha.

We cull the following items from the Rio News of March 10:—

On the 5th inst. the Sapucahy railway paid the last instalment of the purchase money to the S. Isabel do Rio Preto company.

The February traffic receipts of the Leopoldina railway were 361,232$010, of which 87,427$530 from passengers and 255,756$680 from goods.

On the 28th ult. the minister of agriculture refused the application of the Conde d'Eu railway to take the contract for the construction of the railway extension from Mulungu to Alagoa Grande.

The Bahia Central railway has been granted an interest guarantee of 6 per cent per annum on 30,000$ per kilometre for an extension to the banks of the Rio das Contas and a branch towards Orabo.

The representatives of the Belgian syndicate are reported to have accepted the preliminary surveys of the Mar de Hespanha, Minas Geraes, railway and will at once commence the definite location of the line.

A decree dated on January 30th grants an interest guarantee of 6 per cent per annum on a maximum of 30,000$ per kilometre for a railway from Tamandaré through the Jacuhipe valley to the Barra station on the Recife and S. Francisco railway.

On the 4th the governor of Rio de Janeiro granted permission to the Sapucahy railway to extend its Sant'Anna section through S. João do Principe and Ceará to Mangaratiba, to connect with the line, the concession of which the Sapucahy company recently purchased, from Botafogo to Angra dos Reis.

A railway concession for 70 years has been granted by the governor of Rio de Janeiro for a line from Angra dos Reis to Sampaio, on the boundary of Minas Geraes, passing through Capivary, Barra Mansa, Amparo and S. Joanquim, with a branch from Angra to the limits of the federal capital, through Itaborahy.

The Br. lng. Joaquina, which was wrecked on the Rocas shoals February 22, was bound to Santos with rolling stock for the São Paulo and Rio de Janeiro railway. The company has ordered the Jackson & Sharp Co. to duplicate the order 6 passenger and 40 freight cars—in the shortest time possible.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The week opened yesterday with an agreeable fall in the gold premium and nice cool weather. Whether the premium and the weather may not get hotter to-morrow or next day no man can tell; but people hope for coolness in both respects Telegrams from Cordoba announce the departure for Buenos Ayres of the President of the Republic, who arrives here this morning at eight o'clock. The burning questions of the day will now be tackled.

Telegrams from Montevideo sing the same sad song—hundreds of emigrants arriving there from this side in search of employment. Alas and alack a-day! They also say that Government decrees of great importance are expected this week.

The attendance at the Fronton Nacional on Sunday was rather below the average, and, as if the public had gauged the probabilities beforehand, the playing was also of the tamest character. Manco and Garmendia in the first match were unable to make any show against Recondo and Larralde; and in the second game, due to the excessive debility of Mardura, who was set with Elicegui to play against the unbeaten pair, Portal and Irun, no fight could be made, Portal running home an easy winner by 10 aces. If Mardura is in reality so hopelessly weak as his play would lead to suppose, he can no longer rank in the first line of players. Despite debility and all, however, on one or two occasions he shewed that his knowledge of the game is still unequalled.

We find the following particulars of the terrible fire in Bahia in the Rio News:—

"A most disastrous explosion and fire took place in Bahia on the morning of the 4th instant, resulting in the destruction, total and partial, of nineteen buildings, the deaths of forty-eight persons whose bodies have been thus far recovered, and the wounding of a large number of others. The explosion occurred in a hard-ware store belonging to Snrs. Silva, Avila and Co., 28 Rua do Taboao, and was caused either by gunpowder or dynamite stored there. It is currently reported that a careless clerk threw down a cigarette, which fell into an open keg of gunpowder. The building and two adjoining houses were completely wrecked, and several others near by were badly shattered. A fire immediately broke out, which seems to have caused a further destruction of life among those caught in the ruins. The firemen had considerable difficulty in suppressing the fire, after which, early on the 5th, work was begun in removing the victims from the ruins. Up to the 8th forty-eight victims were reported by telegraph, and it was expected that still others would be found. A police investigation is being made into the cause of the explosion.

Telegrams from Rio yesterday report yellow fever on the increase at Campinas.

We were favoured yesterday with a copy of El Americano of Barcelona, an illustrated paper very like the Sud Americano, here, and edited by our quondam colleague Mr Hector Varela. The paper is all portraits (?) of well known Argentines, headed by Dr. Dardo Rocha. They are faultless likenesses, and the paper and type are equal to those of the best illustrated papers in London.

In spite of the falling off in immigration and the heavy emigration that has commenced to Banda Oriental, Mr Alsina, the new Chief of the Immigration Department, announces that there is still balm in Gilead. Six thousand hands are wanted in the Interior, and all working men out of employment, no matter how long in the country, can, on application at the Oficina de Trabajos, obtain free tickets for the journey, and will have all the assistance and privileges granted to newly-arrived immigcants. The different classes required are:—4300 day laborers, farming hands 1450, servants 175, cooks (female) 66, sempstresses 48, carpenters 37, bricklayers 41, barbers 2, blacksmiths 27, boys 77, tailors, brickmakers, shoemakers, etc.

Brazil's immigrant figures for February are no great shakes—only 2600, of whom half were Portuguese, still less shakes as colonists. Five hundred of the same nationality left the Emp—beg pardon, left the Republic, eighty-two for the River Plate.

The gay and festive Gauls are so elated at the success of their Exhibition last year that they have decided to usher in the twentieth century with a still better one, in 1901. In the matter of Exhibitions the French "whip Creation," and even our relative Jonathan must take a back seat, no matter how much size (and "side") he may pile on.

Our Montevidean exchanges yesterday were rather wishy-washy. They report that a Cedula cricket match was to be played on Sunday upon the English Cricket ground, between two elevens chosen alphabetically, from A to K and L to Z respectively. An "Ingles" writes to the River Plate Times condemning the pseudo crusade to abolish holidays over the water. He proves with the irrefutable aid of figures that there are more holidays in England than here, to wit: 52 Sundays, Christmas Day, Good Friday and four Bank holidays, also 52 Saturday half holidays, equal to 26 whole days; total, 84 days, leaving a balance of 281 working days. Here we have 52 Sundays, no half holidays, and at the very most some 20 "dias feriados" or feast days, total 72, leaving a balance of 293 working days. In addition to this, the employees in banks and shipping and commercial houses are frequently called upon to work at their offices on Sundays, or in the evening of other days, which they would not be in England. We entirely agree with "Ingles" in this matter. The sordid, soul-hardening race for wealth in the Plate is quite bad enough without making it worse. Give Religion and Recreation a chance.

Another vigorous and first-rate sign of the times is the simultaneous smash-up of four of those extravagantly got-up "cocherias" or job coach establishments which grew fat on the mad inflation and extravagance of the past few years, and whose only customers were the swarm of "illustres desconocidos" (as the Censor says) who were to be seen at Palermo on Sundays and Thursdays, at Flower Battles etc. etc. Like their illustrious customers, the fat of the "cocherias" was false fat, and has turned to skeleton emaciation at the first blast of the crisis. Carriages, Russian horses, vulgar, showy harness and ebony coschmen and grooms will soon be at as great a discount as shares on the Bolsa. So best.

We had the pleasure of a visit yesterday from Consul General Maguire, of Quebec, and were glad to see him in excellent health.

The Rosario Reporter, in announcing the marriage of Frank Brown, the famous clown, and congratulating the happy couple, day and 245½ end month. Brokers report the market still weak, but it is significant, nevertheless, to note that at any wavering in the bearish pressure for end month the premium jumps up two or three points. Stocks, on the other hand, with exception of National Bank shares, show no improvement, and even in the Sovereign stock very little business can be done. Cedulas are quiet but the tendency is always downwards, and a further fall in the prices is only too probable.

The Government, deeming fit that the monthly balance sheets of the Banks coming under the denomination of "Bancos garantidos" should be fully published, has, by decree signed by Vice President Pellegrini and countersigned by the Finance Minister, ordered that the "Oficina Inspectora" be authorised to publish a monthly bulletin containing all the balance-sheets of the said banks, but without prejudice to their publication in the newspapers in accordance with the law of the 3rd of November 1887.

The chief Government "escribano" has reported to the Minister of the Interior that not one of the purchasers of the lots in the Calles Callao and Rodriguez Peña has taken up the deeds and that they have all consequently lost their respective deposits. The total of the sale, it may be remembered, was $2,827,769.96.

The 'cambista', Mr. Ruggero Apollonia, who was declared bankrupt some days ago, was set at liberty yesterday by the Judge, Mr. P. Giliberto going bail for his reappearance when required. Mr. Apollonio asserts that his assets are greater than his liabilities, and that in time he will be in a position to pay his creditors in full. Messrs. Lopez and Gonzalez Campo were also allowed out on Mr. P. Pico going bail for 5,000 m|n.

The Ministerial decree authorising the sale of 31,000 square metres of fiscal land to the Rosario Railway Company has made its appearance. The lands are situated on the borders of the river, facing Retiro, and the price agreed upon is 30 dollars per metre, giving a total of nearly a million dollars, which goes to the National Treasury. The Company will build workshops and deposits on the site.

The times are astonishingly productive of schemes and plans for improving the situation. Not a day passes without some new combination making its appearance, and we verily believe that the Bolsa to a man has contributed generously in this regard—Quot homines, tot sententiæ. Nor is ingenuity lacking in these elaborations; all have their good points, and it would be worth of a trial at least to secure the naming of a committee of business men, whose task it would be to study all the schemes and opinions enunciated, cull the good points, reject the bad ones and harmonize the whole into one general combination. The elements are certainly heterogeneous enough to tax the wisdom of all our Bolsa Pericles and Solons.

Thus yesterday Mr. C. F. P. came to the front with the following sketch:—The Government annuls the law authorising the sale of the twenty-four thousand leagues and launches a loan with the lands as security, interest and amortization nominal and payable either in gold or its equivalent. To meet the service of the loan a certain portion of the land, say enough to cover the amount required, would be disposed of every year by sale at auction, the land to be subdivided and classified. This measure has all the merit of simplicity and, perhaps, might prove much more feasible than trying to prove to Europeans the absolute necessity that twenty four thousand leagues all in a lump is to them. The loan, it is, of course, understood, would go to the conversion fund.

Hot on the footsteps of Mr. C. F. P. comes Mr. J. M. H. with a proposition more or less confined to moralizing gold transactions on 'Change, and to this end he suggests that no broker be allowed to make operations for his own account, nor for a third party without written authority; all transactions in gold should, moreover, be entered daily in a book kept by the Camara Sindical, with full particulars, brokers' names, clients' names, amount, date and guarantees, as well as the documents of the clients empowering the brokers. These are the principal features of the project, which, of course, is set forth in detail with pensities, etc., and is well worthy of attention.

Our special correspondent in Concordia wires the news that at the sale of the Nueva Escocia lands as high as 469 dollars gold per hectare has been paid. This is a splendid price for even these splendid lands, which until lately formed the well-known Shand estancia. Our colleague winds up by stating that the "boom" has commenced.

The Royal Mail packet Trent clears to morrow for Southampton with the following list of first-class passengers:—Mr G Barclay Bruce, Mr and Mrs B Chandler, Mr J Aitken, Mrs King, Miss Hayes, Mr J H Walker, Mr A Budger, Mr J Geary, Mr and Mrs C Geary, Gmo Milne, Mrs Uardayh and Miss Bridger.

The following passengers arrived this morning in the French s.s. Orenoque:—Messrs F Irigoyen, B Bergara and family, G Moro, J C Riviera, F Galicia, T Lopez, Victor Hernandez, Leonarda, Dolores and Juana Irigoyen, Jose Breton, Francisco Fernandez, A Bergara, F Caballero, Julio Ferri, F Isna, Jose A Aldaya, M Gomez, J Perez, M Nieto, J Carrillo and J Lestori.

The movement at La Plata fort continues to show marked progress, and its natural facilities and those now offered by Don Pio Uriburu, the active manager of the Moles and Deposits Company are fully appreciated by all connected with shipping. The Lamport and Holt steamer "Garrick" is now loading maiz for Messrs. Altgelt and Co. and on Saturday at 1 p.m. the Houston liner, s.s. "Hildegarde" with 1268 registered tonnage and under command of Captain Davies was towed up without any difficulty alongside the wharves of the Muelles and Depositos Company at the head of the entrance to the Grand Government Dock, and within half an hour was busy loading maiz for Liverpool. The Hildegarde is consigned to the firm of E. J. Puleston, who have arranged with Sr. Uriburu to ship at the rate of 8,000 bags per day. She takes in all 35,000 bags for account of one of our leading export houses. We congratulate the shippers on having so appropriate a vessel as the Hildegarde for Captain Davies's injustry proud of the splendid ventilating system adopted in his ship.

Advices from Arrecifes announce that the chacareros are now busy getting in the maize crop which is most satisfactory both as regards yield and quality. Harvest hands, strange to say, are abundant and are paid at the rate of 15 cents per bag. In live stock the purchase has been effected of 1000 novillos to 'invernar' at 16 dollars and 700 cows "al corte" at 6 dollars.

Mr. Bonorino has bought in Pehuaje 5000 cows at 5 dollars.

During the past fortnight the following transactions in jerked beef have been effected:—Concordia: 42 q.q. "habanera y bonita" quality at 30½ rls. for March, for barque Antonita. Colon: 600 bales, "habanera y bonita," 50 kilos at 33½ rls. for Spain. Magdalena: 7500 qq. "habanera y bonita," for April 15th, at 29 rls., for barque Linee.

The following is the table of slaughter of the Saladeros up to 15th March:

	1890	1889	1888
B. Aires	240,000	190,200	92,000
The Rivers	316,000	239,200	260,500
Montevideo	199,769	220,100	191,000
Rio Grande	175,000	165,000	165,000
	930,769

It was announced to day that a well-known broker has taken up 5,000 National Bank Shares cash, the price being kept in reserve. It is most probable that this transaction has been the cause of the improvement in this stock noted on Saturday last. There is at all events a better demand for the shares which is good news for holders.

L'affaire Schweitzer has at last come to a close the whole matter having been arranged with the creditors on the basis proposed. The Comision del Interior laid the agreement before the Camara Sindical today for approval, so that the business may be considered at an end.

The Pacific packet Galicia arrived today in Montevideo from the West Coast and left immediately for Europe.

The s.s. Oruba leaves Montevideo on the 19th inst. for Valparaiso and ports.

Dr. J. Collis Browne's

CHLORODYNE.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE

Advice to Invalids.—If you wish to obtain quiet refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by J. Collis Browne, (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 5 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russel Street, Bloomsbury, London. Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the widespread reputation this justly esteemed medicine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan; but all over the East. As a remedy for general utility, we must question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands we are so sorry to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances "ad infinitum" of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's from a firm Conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a deliberate Breach of Faith on the part of the Chemist to prescribe and Patient alike. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes and Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain. His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists.

Caution.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr J Collis Browne, was, undoubtedly, the Inventor of Chlorodine; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue which he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See "The Times," July 13, 1864.

Sold in bottles at 1s. 1 1/2d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

Caution.—Beware of Piracy and Imitations.

Sole Manufacturer—J. T. DAVENPORT, 33 Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London. 175 f7 a7 1pw

ON 'CHANGE.

PRICE OF GOLD TO-DAY.

First Ring.....	246 00
Second Ring.....	256.00

Tuesday, March 18th.
The Bolsa opened this morning bright with the hope that the "Ides of March" had at last arrived; the Western Railway would be sold to Henderson, and the market flushed with new money, new bills of exchange and new gold. But it was all but a dream at the best; and before the first ring closed there were not wanting some very good-natured people who, with their hats over their eyes, hinted at bad news from La Plata. In an instant gold, which was weak at 241, grew stiff, and the bell rang out on 246 cash, buyers. The great anxiety to get at the real news from La Plata was evidenced by the number of telegrams flying about. At two o'clock we saw a message from the La Plata Government House which ran: "Three proposals sent in." Then a well-known party came on 'Change from the Provincial Bank and reported only two deposits made and, ergo, only two bids. Next we had news put up that Hale and Co.'s bid for the railway only amounted to 35 millions, which threw a wet blanket over the whole Bolsa. The second ring opened with a roar at 249, then jump, jump, until 255 was marked.
